Coal Controller Warns B.C. People Fill Bins Now

VANCOUVER (CP) — Order your coal now for immediate delivery—or you may not be able to get any next winter.

That was the warning given to the public of B.C. and the west today by Thomas Marshall of Calgary, western regional allocation officer of the Coal Controller of Canada.

In a telephone interview, Mr. Marshall said:

1. It is still too early to forecast the possible future effects of the 39-day-old U.S. soft coal strike on British Columbia supplies.

2. "Very little" B.C. coal is being shipped to eastern Canada despite recent Ottawa press reports that large movements were being contemplated.

3. There is no coal shortage yet—anywhere in western Canada.

4. Dealers' storage space is definitely limited.

5. Domestic and other users should order next winter's coal at once and take delivery as soon as it can be delivered. Otherwise, "if there is a shortage next winter, it will be the public's own fault."

In Vancouver, Mr. Marshall's warning was backed up with facts offered by King Anderson, secretary of the Greater Vancouver Retail Fuel Dealers' Association.

Mr. Anderson said more than 60 per cent of Vancouver's coal comes from Alberta. The rest is mined in British Columbia.

Suggest Closing City Hall Saturdays To Get 5-Day Week

The question of closing the City Hall Saturday mornings during the slack period of the summer months as an experiment to see how the five-day work week would work out may come before Monday's City Council meeting for decision.

Vancouver City Council this week decided that the City Hall there would be closed all Saturday during July and August to try out the five-day week during the summer months. This has been heralded as the beginning of a year-round five-day week for city employees there, although some aldermen have said they would demand the Vancouver hall be re-opened Saturday mornings at the end of August.

Mayor Percy George said that he felt the council would have to decide the question as a matter of policy and until he had heard all the arguments for and against the five-day week for the City Hall he would not be prepared to express an opinion. "There are too many ramifications to make a snap decision on this matter," he declared.

Inquest Witness Asserts Bridge Not Wide Enough

NANAIMO (CP)—Having lived for three years in close proximity to the south end of Nanaimo River bridge and constantly hearing automobiles "grazing and scraping" against guard rails, John Edward Antrobus, proprietor of El Rancho roadside resort, considers the bridge too narrow for safe driving. This was the voluntary statement he gave to a coroner's jury here this morning at inquest over the eight Sleen family and Wyatt victims of last Friday night's crash when the Sleen car carried all to their deaths in the swirling depths of Nanaimo River.

He advocated bridge lights, wider driving deck and the keeping of a rowboat at the spot for emergencies.

Nanaimo Crash Victim

Mrs. Kathleen Wyatt, 310 Edward Street, wife of Petty Officer H. Wyatt stationed with the navy at Esquimalt, was one of the eight victims of the Nanaimo River bridge crash last Friday night. Friend of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sleen, 641 Ardersier Road, Mrs. Wyatt was a passenger in their car which crashed through the bridge railing, falling 50 feet and landing in 40 feet of swirling water of the river. Mr. and Mrs. Sleen, their four children, and a brother of Mr. Sleen, Oran A., a B.C. Electric streetcar and bus driver, also were killed. They will be buried in a family plot at Royal Oak cemetery Saturday. Funeral service for Mrs. Wyatt will be held Saturday at 1:30 in the chapel of Sande Mortuary and interment will be at Royal Oak. Her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, reside at 2925 Tillicum Road.

Morrison Soon In U.S.

LONDON (Reuters) — Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, will leave Saturday for Washington for his talks with President Truman on the world food situation, political quarters said today.

during a slack season. "The five-day week is coming," he declared "and it would be a good idea to see how it can be worked out. I would want to see the results of the experiment and how it affects the public before going on record as approving the Saturday closings on a permanent basis."

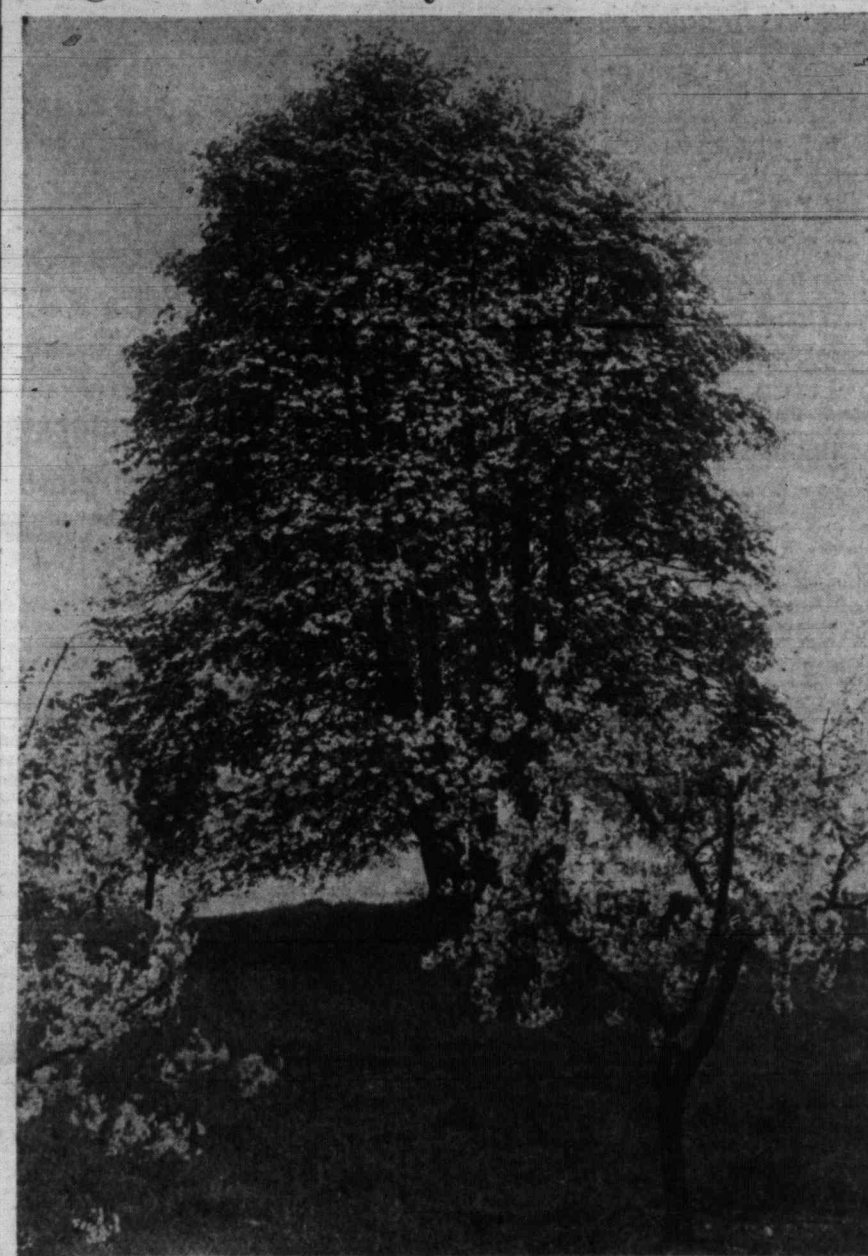

Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the efficiency survey committee, was strongly opposed. "The City Hall employees only work a maximum of 38 hours a week now," he declared "and some work less than that when you count the time they take off in the middle of the morning and afternoon."

He insisted that "the public has to be considered and it is not practical to close the City Hall all day Saturday."

He was also opposed to the idea of a five-day week for outside staff members because "we have so much to accomplish and will never get these essential jobs done if we cut down the hours of work any more. It is extremely difficult now to get enough skilled help for the work we have on hand."

Ald. Diggon felt that the civic service offered so many advantages to its employees in such things as sick leave with pay, holidays with pay, superannuation that it was unfair to demand anything more.

Dogwood Beauty At Its Best

The spring-time beauty of this perfect specimen of a flowering dogwood arrests the admiration of motorists driving along the Old West Saanich Road and is the pride of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miller on whose five-acre fruit farm it stands. Thousands of white wax-like blooms give the tree a shimmering halo in the sunlight. The dogwoods which grow profusely in the West Saanich and Cordova Bay areas now are at their best.

United States Of Europe Advocated By Churchill

AMSTERDAM (CP)—Winston Churchill today called for formation of a United States of Europe in an address to The Netherlands Parliament.

Britain's wartime Prime Minister said he saw "no reason why under the guardianship of a world organization there should not arise the United States of Europe, both of the east and of the west, which will unify this continent in a manner never known since the Roman Empire."

"It will give you prosperity, justice and peace," he told his applauding audience.

"These special alliances between nations, far from weakening the structure of the United Nations, should make the United Nations indivisible and inviolable," he declared.

TREATY WITH RUSSIA

Britain's 20-year treaty of friendship with the Soviet Union "will also be a guarantee for peace."

Mr. Churchill said "we welcome the proposed treaty of friendship with France" and expressed the hope that "the western democracies of Europe may draw together in closer association."

He called for affirmation "of the sanctity of smaller states." "The duty of large powers in the modern world is to see that these rights are protected," he said. "It is the purpose of the United Nations' organization to make sure that the force of right will be protected by the right of force."

"We hope that the western democracies of Europe may draw together in ever closer unity. We trust that in due course the natural unity and alliance between Britain and France may find reaffirmation in a new treaty. We welcome every step towards strength and freedom taken by the French people."

Mr. Churchill urged that the people of the world devise "those measures of world security which will prevent disaster."

CLEAR-CUT FREEDOM

The reality of any political democracy could be measured on the basis of its provision for free election; freedom of opinion, free opposition and free criticism of the government of the day.

Crowds of cheering Hollanders greeted the wartime leader on his route from the palace in Amsterdam to the parliament in The Hague. Mr. Churchill, with his wife and daughter, Mary, had been the guests of Queen Wilhelmina at the palace overnight.

Pearson Expects Early Conference To Avert Strike

Confidence that negotiations between the International Woodworkers of America, representing 37,000 British Columbia loggers and sawmill workers, and the logging industry would be settled without a strike was expressed here today by Labor Minister George S. Pearson.

Mr. Pearson, after meeting Harold Pritchett, British Columbia district president of the I.W.A., which is affiliated with the C.I.O. and C.C.L. and Ernest Dalskog, international board member for the union, said:

"There is no insurmountable difficulty that I can see. If they are willing to give and take a little they can get down to business without talk of a strike."

Mr. Pritchett, following the meeting with Mr. Pearson, said: "We came over to put our position before the minister which we have done."

TO ARBITRATION BOARD

He said that the union's position at the present was that it had offered to put the question of union security to an arbitration board. If the employers agreed to this suggestion, the union would be willing to proceed with negotiations on wage and hours of work questions.

Mr. Pritchett warned, however, that if there were no word from the industry before 11 Monday morning the whole industry would be brought to halt by a strike.

The strike was called earlier this week when negotiations between the union representatives and R. V. Stuart, negotiator for the industry, reached a crisis. The loggers and sawmill workers on the coast, it was reported, would be supported by interior loggers, bringing the total number to go out May 15 to 37,000.

The union is seeking a 25-cent an hour wage increase, which it contends is necessary to cover the rising cost of living, a 40-hour work week, necessary according to the union's allegation to give employment to veterans, and provisions for further union security.

Mr. Pearson said he had been in touch by telephone with Arthur McNamara, deputy labor minister for the Dominion government, who had asked if he could help to avert the strike. Mr. McNamara had asked if setting up a commission or board would be of any value.

Mr. Pearson was of the opinion that it was not necessary at this time to appoint a board.

The industry up to last Monday had offered a counter-proposal to the union's demands a 12½-cent an hour wage increase and a three-year contract with a 44-hour work week.

No indication was available today as to whether the industry would be willing to accept the union's proposal to arbitrate union security.

In Vancouver, H. W. Watts, secretary of the Building Trades Council, A.F.L., had predicted that between 8,000 and 9,000 building construction workers would be laid off within a week if the lumber strike were called.

SEEK DOMINION-WIDE SUPPORT

Dominion-wide support for the threatened strike has been asked of the Canadian Congress of Labor national committee by Mr. Pritchett.

Pat Conroy, Dominion organizer of the C.C.L. in Ottawa, is coming to the coast and scheduled to address meetings in Victoria and Vancouver.

Unions, regardless of affiliation, have been asked to consider the strike.

Meanwhile in Vancouver it was announced that strike pay, as arranged by the I.W.A., would be from $5 to $20 a week. Single men and women would receive $5 a week, married men without dependants, $9; married men with one dependent, $11; and with two dependants, $12.50.

Larger families would receive an additional $1 per week for each additional dependent up to $20 per week.

East, Midwest To Dimout In U.S. Drive To Save Coal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The industrial stagnation settling swiftly over the United States because of the soft coal strike prompted drastic new steps today to conserve fuel, including a dimout of the thickly-populated east and midwest.

The Civilian Production Administration urged electric power utilities in coal-burning areas east of the Mississippi and in Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota to ration electricity in progressive stages, starting with a brownout and then to a blackout of all but essential services.

Another order prepared for issuance, probably today, would authorize the rationing of manufactured gas—a possible blow to householders who cook with that fuel.

But more immediately, the government's ban on nonessential railroad freight shipments and the 25 per cent slash in rail passenger service will go into effect at midnight tonight. To supplement this order, the Office of Defense Transportation urgently appealed to motor carriers to give priority to movement of food, fuel and other essentials.

On the political front, meanwhile, one lawmaker after another angrily denounced the shutdown. Senator James Eastland, Dem., Miss., said he and others would seek to put aside the British loan bill in favor of the Senate version of the Case strike control bill already passed by the House.

Mainly, the congressional fire was directed at one man—John L. Lewis, head of the 400,000 United Mine Workers.

Mr. Lewis, who terminated the working agreement between the union and mine operators April 1 and touched off the strike, remained silent. The union seeks contributions by operators to a welfare fund before it will discuss demands relating to hours of work and rates of pay.

By Canadian Press

Ontario industrial plants are operating on a 10-day basis and Great Lakes shipping will be at a complete standstill in two weeks, unless the coal crisis is solved.

It has become evident that unless the United States strike is settled the end of this month will see critical effects on the Canadian economy.

Reconstruction Minister Howe told the Commons in Ottawa Wednesday that while many large industries have enough stockpiles for two or three months, industries dependent on deliveries from wholesalers are already threatened. Soft coal is available from Canadian mines in Nova Scotia and the western provinces on an emergency basis. Railways have two months' supply in stockpiles.

Already many vessels have been tied up at lake ports.

Oak Bay Council Considers Plan For Nursery School

Proposed establishment of a non-profit demonstration nursery school in Oak Bay was considered by Oak Bay councillors meeting in the Municipal Hall Wednesday evening.

In a letter to the council, Violet E. Ashdown, 2164 Oak Bay Ave., advised the councillors there was a plan being worked out for the nursery in the municipality. If the centre were established, she said, it would be the first of its kind west of Toronto.

In order to secure establishment of the demonstration nursery school, the council was asked to reserve sale of a piece of municipally-owned property opening on Foul Bay Road.

On the motion of Councillor R. A. B. Wootton, the council decided to withhold the property concerned from sale for the next 30 days to give Miss Ashdown an opportunity to lay the plans for the nursery before the council, and, if necessary, make an offer for the property.

A. S. G. Musgrave reported on the motor car traffic count in Oak Bay. In spite of the increase in population of the municipality from 7,500 to 10,500 from 1940 to 1946, he said, there were some routes in the municipality which showed a drop in the motor traffic. Beach Drive, through Victoria Golf Club, dropped from 700 cars a day to 500, and Cadboro Bay Road, past Uplands Golf Club, from 900 to 700 a day. Uplands in general remained more or less static.

However, considerable increase was shown in areas which had been heavily built up since January, 1940. Most outstanding was Musgrave Street, paved in 1942, which increased from 350 cars a day to 1,150.

Most traveled block remained where the motorist directly entered Oak Bay on Oak Bay Ave. There, daily car traffic increased from 4,050 to 4,950. At the Cadboro Bay entrance to Oak Bay, the increase was from 2,500 to 3,450 cars a day.

Summarizing, Mr. Musgrave said, there was an overall increase of cars into and out of Oak Bay of from 9,300 to 11,300 per day in spite of the fact that practically no cars had been available during the past four years.

A report was received from E. G. Claydars, Oak Bay fire chief, who noted April, 1946, marked the eighth year in which the Oak Bay fire department had been in operation. Total fire loss for the eight years was $131,004, and total alarms were 1,452.

Property at risk because of fire during the eight-year period was $3,380,274.

Premier Hart Asks Clothing Drive Help

Premier John Hart has joined his colleagues from other provinces in the Dominion in commending the National Clothing Collection which will take place from June 17 to 29 on behalf of the suffering peoples of Europe and Asia who are unable to obtain much-needed garments except through the generosity of the residents of countries that were untouched by the ravages of war.

In a message received today at National headquarters of Canadian Allied Relief (C.A.R.), which is sponsoring Canada's second drive for serviceable used clothing, Premier Hart said:

"The deprivation now being experienced by people in countries devastated by war will move all sympathetic Canadians to assist in alleviating their sufferings. Consequently, I have no hesitation in commending to the public the campaign to be conducted by Canadian Allied Relief to raise clothing for these people, and wish it every success."

"Throughout Canada local communities, who did such a splendid job in the drive last October, when over 12,000,000 pounds of clothing was collected, are re-forming and are extending their plans in order to ensure that this second drive will be equally successful. In order to achieve this result they know that there are hundreds, if not thousands, of families scattered through the Dominion who were not contacted for donations, and who had no means of sending their used clothing to the depot. The weak spots in the local organizations, whether it was a matter of transportation, collectors, or canvassers, were all noted and community leaders are determined to strain every effort this time to see that no single family is deprived of the opportunity to make its contribution of used clothing."

Followed Lead Of Other Generals Says Brig. Lister In Defence

AMSTERDAM (CP)—A Canadian court-martial will announce late today whether it will call Lieut. Gen. Guy Simonds of Kingston, Ont., as a witness as was requested Wednesday by the prosecution at the conclusion of the defence of Brig. J. F. A. Lister, 39, of Quebec City and Victoria, B.C.

Gen. Simonds, who commanded the Canadian army in The Netherlands, now is en route to Britain from Canada. He has been mentioned several times in evidence at the trial of Brig. Lister on charges of misuse of requisitioned property in Amsterdam.

A letter from Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands on behalf of Brig. Lister's defence was ruled as inadmissible after Lieut. Col. Bruce Macdonald of Windsor, Ont., had contended it would be prejudicial to the case since it referred to the facts under discussion.

The defence said it had no desire to call the Prince personally, but it reserved the right to enter the letter after the court's finding was announced, probably tomorrow night.

The only witness today was Maj. Gen. Cyril Lloyd, Director of Education at the War Office, who formerly served on 1st Canadian Army Headquarters.

ENTITLED TO SUITE

Gen. Lloyd said an officer of Brig. Lister's rank on leave would be entitled to a suite of rooms or the equivalent. If the equivalent were used he assumed it would require a staff adequate to service it like a hotel suite.

Gen. Lloyd agreed with a prosecution suggestion that "a serious view" might be taken in the British army if there were reason to believe premises had been requisitioned improperly on the pretext they would be used for official purposes, but "any ensuing action would depend on the individual nature of the case."

At Wednesday's session Brig. Lister testified for 2½ hours. He spoke of his suspension last January by Gen. Simonds from his duties as chief-of-staff of the Canadian army force in The Netherlands and added: "I was dumfounded and absolutely furious when Simonds suspended me Jan. 1 because so-called reliable information implicated me in the alleged appearance of Canadian army wines and spirits on the Dutch black market."

The brigadier said Lt. Gen. C. O. Montague's recent court of inquiry "completely exonerated me of any such suggestion and, what is much worse, there never has been any reliable information."

In using requisitioned premises in Amsterdam he said he "followed the lead of others," such as Maj. Gen. E. L. (Tommy) Burns of Westmount, Que., one-time commander of the 1st Canadian Corps in Italy and at present rehabilitation head in the Department of Veterans Affairs.

He testified he had obtained the Amsterdam headquarters to get a billet which would provide him with a complete break from army life. He said he had been on the verge of a nervous breakdown toward the end of July, 1945.

The defendant said he also used the flat as a headquarters from which to supervise army welfare activities generally.

Photographs were submitted by the defence of a "very large and luxuriously furnished home" occupied by Gen. Simonds and his two aides-de-camp outside Apeldoorn.

Brig. Lister said his civilian staff included three highly-qualified chefs and four or five gardeners, all paid from public funds. He also testified that Gen.

Brown Freed On Manslaughter Charge

A 12-man jury acquitted James P. Brown on a charge of manslaughter at the spring assizes Wednesday and found him guilty on a charge of dangerous driving. The jury acquitted Brown of manslaughter and returned the lesser verdict after deliberating close to three hours. He was remanded until the end of the assizes for sentence.

He was charged with manslaughter after the car he was driving March 2 was alleged to have struck and killed Patrick John Harris at the intersection of Wilson and Catherine Streets. Jury members returned once to the courtroom to ask further advice from Mr. Justice Manson as to the exact difference between the manslaughter charge and that of dangerous driving.

"The law holds," said Mr. Justice Manson, "that gross or great negligence beyond a reasonable doubt should be shown before a verdict of guilty is brought in. If it is not, but negligence is nevertheless shown, you could then judge whether the accused is guilty of the lesser charge of dangerous driving."

Russian Influence Blamed By Iran For Azerbaijani Trouble

TEHRAN (AP)—A special counsel for the Iranian Foreign Office said Wednesday night that negotiations with a delegation representing the self-proclaimed autonomous government of Azerbaijan province had broken down because of "the exaggerated demands" of the Azerbaijan leaders.

The counsel said Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam had refused to meet the Azerbaijan demands "because he is conscientiously following the letter and spirit of constitutional law."

The spokesman asserted the Azerbaijan delegation was persisting in these demands "because of Russian sponsorship and the knowledge that the Red Army still backs them."

There still was no official information as to whether the Russians had withdrawn all their troops from Azerbaijan Province in fulfillment of the Soviet-Iranian agreement concluded April 5.

MINISTER INDISPONED
Prince Mozaffar Firouz, Iranian propaganda minister, was not in his office and a secretary said he was ill.

The Azerbaijan delegation, headed by Premier Jafar Pishevari of the autonomous regime, arrived here two weeks ago to begin negotiations looking toward a settlement of Azerbaijan's differences with the national government. Under the April 5 agreement Russia recognized the "internal affair" to be settled by the Tehran government.

The report of the breakdown coincided with a radio broadcast from Tabriz, Azerbaijan capital, which declared that "we have won our freedom by spilling out our own blood and we will not give it up."

Canadian-Japanese Win Acting Prizes

At the successful drama festival at Greenwood last week the best actor and best actress prizes were both won by young Canadians of Japanese origin.

A public meeting approved the formation of The Boundary District Drama Association. Officers were elected from Grand Forks, Midway and Rock Creek. The mayor of Greenwood was elected president.

TIME FOR COOL JUDGMENT

STRIKE ACTION IN THE LUMBER AND shipbuilding industries looms as a possibility in British Columbia. The district president of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) has informed the public that the workers, some 37,000 of them, will walk off their jobs on May 15 "unless the employers consider a satisfactory settlement to the union's just demands on or before" that deadline. The province's shipyard unions in Vancouver will vote on May 13 to decide whether to strike or not to strike. Workers in the two principal establishments in Victoria are to meet their managements next week. Higher wages and fewer hours of work are the bones of contention.

The workers of this province played their part magnificently during the trying years which ended with the defeat of the Axis powers. Other parts of Canada had acquired the habit of pointing to British Columbia as the one spot on this continent where labor troubles were impressively conspicuous by their absence. Here was a tribute to the good sense of management and worker alike. It is because of this fine record, apart from the pressing need for undisturbed productive achievement in many fields, that the public hopes wise counsels will prevail and prevent dislocation in two basic industries. Regardless of certain points of disagreement which are bound to develop from time to time between employer and employee—for the composition of which, incidentally, the provincial Department of Labor has the requisite machinery—conditions that are unfolding in the United States furnish uncomfortable reminders to the Canadian people of what happens when the exercise of the basic right to strike fails to take into appropriate account the general welfare of the public at large.

Leaders of Labor in Canada, in British Columbia in particular, are reasonable men and progressive citizens. And the fact that this country's industrial structure has been subjected to the minimum of disturbance in recent years would seem to furnish adequate proof that management, too, has measured up to its important responsibilities. Because of the satisfactory record, therefore, it is to be hoped that a pressure technique, no matter what its origin, which has obviously gained sinister impetus in the United States will produce no imitation in this part of the continent. Both sides to any dispute have a mutual obligation to meet; it is in the best interests of the employer and employee to recognize their fundamental dependence upon one another.

It is satisfactory to note in respect of the controversy in which the lumber and shipbuilding industries are engaged that Labor Minister Pearson is to be consulted. Throughout his long association with his particular department of the public service he has had to deal with many knotty problems. His has usually been the balancing influence which has averted serious consequences. And while it is not within our province to "lecture" either parties to the apparent discontents of the moment, we are merely echoing the sentiments of all fair-minded citizens when we hope that reason will prevail in the interests of every British Columbian.

CANADA 'THE LINCHPIN' STILL

BETWEEN THE TIME HE TOOK UP HIS post of United Kingdom High Commissioner in Canada in 1941 and his acceptance of the less pleasant task of Governor-General of the Malayan Union and the Colony of Singapore recently, Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald delivered several thoughtful and usefully provocative addresses on the role of the British Commonwealth and Empire in the world scheme of things and the influence which Canada has exercised.

For this and other reasons, therefore, it is interesting to note some observations to which this brilliant young statesman gave expression at a meeting of the Royal Empire Society in London last Wednesday—especially for their application to some points of view by which one or two United Kingdom newspapers assume to reflect the habits of thought of the people of the British Isles in respect of what is loosely termed "imperial policy." And it is not inappropriate to suggest that Mr. MacDonald's more specific references, both to the internal problems of Canada—shades of last week's abortive Dominion-Provincial Conference—and to her role as interpreter between Washington and London, should be carefully studied and meticulously analyzed by that element in political Britain whose mental equipment still wears the cobwebs of the Victorian era.

Mr. MacDonald, no longer under official restraints as far as this country is concerned, prefaced his direct approach to his subject with a genuine tribute to Canada's growth to nationhood—"recognized everywhere"—and then reminded his audience that either of two divisions might rend the Dominion. The first was internal, for any really serious quarrel between the French-speaking Canadians and the English-speaking Canadians would create an almost impossible situation in the nation. The other possible vital division was external—any schism between Great Britain and the United States. Because of its geographical position, Mr. MacDonald asserted, this country's membership in the family circle of the British Commonwealth and Empire and her good-neighboredness toward the United States should never become irreconcilable, adding:

"If the governments in London and Washington disagreed to such an extent that Canada had to make a choice between one country and the other, that choice might destroy Canadian national unity. The solution of that problem is that we in Britain should so conduct our affairs that Canadians should never have to make that choice at all. The Canadians, because they understand the Americans better than we do, and understand us better than the Americans do, could play a distinct part. If we will let them, in strengthening Anglo-American friendship."

While the simple facts embodied in Mr. MacDonald's remarks are self-evident, and progressive Canadians often have used them with numerous variants, others are still prisoners of their peculiar Colonial concept of Commonwealth and Empire. Perhaps some of these may be mollified when they learn that Viscount Bennett presided at the gathering in question and assured his audience that the former High Commissioner's analysis was the most comprehensive ever made to the society.

ESSENTIAL CONTROLS

IF FURTHER ARGUMENTS WERE REQUIRED to emphasize the need for caution in lifting controls on production and distribution of goods throughout Canada, the remarks of Hon. James McKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in Hamilton yesterday would help to supply them. It is widely understood that the maintenance of many checks is necessary to avoid inflation as long as production lags behind the demands arising from the accumulation of a public purchasing power unequalled at any time in Canada's history. Mr. McKinnon supplements this thesis with an indication of the disruption that would occur in shipments for European relief and the strong probability that higher prices in the export field might drain goods from the Dominion that are required here.

The latter condition has been indicated in the lumber business, which is permitted a higher return on export than on domestic sales and consequently channels much of the material needed in this district to foreign markets. In that specific case, be it noted, the outflow of supplies is justifiable in view of the more critical need of the war-devastated areas. It is obvious, however, that the increased price secured from external buyers is no deterrent to export. There is, moreover, a limit to the quantity which can be shipped out. Those who have grappled with the lumber shortage in their efforts to build new homes will realize the significance of Mr. McKinnon's remarks and will appreciate the dangers, coincident with inflation, if controls were lifted indiscriminately on all articles.

While it will be conceded that protection is needed to ensure essentials for domestic consumers, nothing in the maintenance of existing regulations has kept the Minister of Trade from the energetic pursuit of markets to balance Canada's increased productive potential. He has been tireless in his efforts to open new purchasing fields, both in this hemisphere and elsewhere. But in his campaign for wider outlets for goods manufactured in Canada, he has kept in mind the cardinal fact that the machinery of peacetime production has yet some distance to go to catch up with demand and assure a sound economy.

PLAYGROUNDS

IT IS QUESTIONABLE IF ANY COMMUNITY on this continent has too many parks or playlots. Their importance is readily recognized by all individuals who appreciate the recreational opportunities they present for all age groups. According to a report submitted to the Recreation Council here this week, Victoria is inadequately supplied in that respect.

Some years ago, the parks department listed a number of locations in which playlots could be established. Since that date a heavy demand for real estate has placed a considerable amount of the property originally considered for that use in private hands. Continuing sales will further decrease the available areas. The situation calls for both thought and action by civic authorities and community groups. From the city should come a statement of policy regarding the development of playgrounds. If their desirability is such that it outweighs the immediate cash returns from land sales, it would be common sense to reserve vacant lots for that purpose. If existing school grounds would meet the need, then surely some arrangements could be made with the school authorities. And if equipment and trained personnel are required to exploit them adequately, the provision of such facilities, human and material, could well become an objective for the community associations, which are now stimulating such valuable interest in the development of that phase of citizenship responsibility.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC

THE VANCOUVER, WASH., CASE IN which a lawyer was fined $10 for contempt of court, repudied the sum would "not begin to express my contempt of this court" and, as a consequence, was assessed $50, raises a neat point. It illustrates the protection enjoyed by the court against the caustic comment or wit of an advocate. But what protection has the barrister if the shoe is on the other foot? The question, be it noted, is largely academic as far as current practice in this province is concerned.

MRS. NOGGIN'S STOPS READING

MY NEIGHBOR, Mrs. Noggin, paused in the morning task of cleaning out the hen house, leaned on her hoe and shouted across the fence: "I seen in the papers where Perffessor Laski says the Americans 'ave got an atom bomb that can blow up a whole state and two of 'em could blow up 'alf the country in one quick puff. But some scientific fella in England says Laski is all wrong as usual because the biggest American bomb can only blow up one big city at a time. Well, if it takes a whole bomb to blow up a city, then this fella says wot's all the fuss about, same as Uncle 'Erbert said when they found 'e was only a thousand pounds short in the cash box. Why, like this English fella says, a bomb that can only blow up one city should be beneath our notice in an age of progress like this, which is just what 'Erbert told the policeman."

"BUT I'VE QUIT READING the papers. They warped my judgment. Nobody can keep 'is sanity if 'e reads the papers now-a-days because it's perfectly clear when you read 'em that the world is crazy and dyin' in front of your eyes. Anybody who can read English and add two and two together can see that the whole thing is 'opeless and dead already, but it still goes on. That's the funny thing, it still goes on."

"But if you want to see it goin' on, if you want to keep your mind clear and your judgment sound, you mustn't read the papers. The only way you can know wot's really 'appenin' today is to keep as ignorant as possible. If you know wot's goin' on you'll end up like poor old Laski with bombs on the brain, himagin' we're in danger when they can only blow up one city at a time."

"IT WILL BE a lovely joke on a lot of fellas if we get through all this alive. You take Davie Lewis, of the C.C.F., as made a speech in Vancouver the other day, sayin' the new depression is 'ere, just like 'e predicted, and 'e was so 'appy about it 'e was fit to be tied. Why, these fellas 'as built their careers on the next depression and if it don't come they'll die of grief and pinin'. But they're still clingin' to their old 'ope of humvernal ruin and makin' votes on it. It's nice to see somebody 'appy like Davie anyways and it'd be a shame to break their little 'earts with a cold dash of prosperity."

"But to tell the truth, a smart fella like Coldwell must 'ave private doubts these days. Why, look at it. These fellas are goin' around tellin' us that we want to be regulated and controlled for our own good by the government, that we're all socialists at 'eart and ready for the Co-operative Commonwealth, and we all cheer. But in this socialist country of Canada, with everybody cheerin' for regulation and control, everybody is workin' day and night to chuck out even the price ceilings and the wage ceilings and everything else that gets in the way."

"HIMAGINE poor old Coldwell tryin' to control a people who won't even control himself to save their own skins. Himagine 'im himmaginin' 'e can control anything with people all fer socialism provided it don't touch them but only the other fella. Coldwell controllin' Canadians—tis a pitcher no artist could paint."

"Why, when I was readin' the papers it seemed to me like I was readin' the same papers I seen in 1920 with only the comics different. The difference is the comics user be on the back page by themselves. Now they've strewed them through the whole paper in the news, and the statesmen is actin' like Mutt and Jeff uster, until the world is just one long comic strip with all the old fun left out."

"Everythink was the same in the papers 25 years ago as it is now—hinfation, labor troubles, bull market, two chickens in every pot and not a lick of sense in a carload. Why, a fella says in the States they've used enough grain to make liquor so far this year to keep 46,000,000 people from starvin' in Europe and now they're cuttin' down their own bread to feed the 'ungry and clamorin' for more drinks at 'ome."

"AND IN OTTAWA they shut up a fella in jail for weeks and a Royal Commission said 'e was a spy and when they got 'im into court they couldn't even find enough evidence to try 'im."

"So I quit readin' the papers and now my judgment's sounder, as 'Erbert said when they gave 'im 10 years with 'ard labor in the jail, where 'e invented a new mouse trap and Social Credit but Manning got all the credit for it."

QUOTING

We must all pray that the world's harvests this year will not fall below average. But we have to recognize that if they do the outlook will be black.—British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

If we find no solution to this problem of war, we will be cursed by the generations to come.—Dr. Harold C. Urey, University of Chicago chemist.

This is one of the periods of history in which we are either making for a climactic orgy of destruction or are going through the travail which means a new period of freedom and decent opportunity and security in our time.—Dr. Everett Case, president Colgate University.

There does not seem to be any need for engines capable of 80, 90 or 100 miles an hour. The present-day passenger unit is an instrument of tremendous destructive potentialities unless properly handled.—Governor Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Affairs Writer

Winston Churchill calls for a faithful understanding with Russia through the United Nations to avoid war and urges the English-speaking world and western democracies of Europe to move together in creating true friendship with the Soviet Union.

Few will disagree with Churchill for, as he adds, "only in this way can catastrophe be avoided." However, when we sit down to figure out ways and means of creating friendship with Russia we encounter difficulties.

The first obstacle is that it takes two to make a friendship, and that it involves at least a modicum of agreement on things which matter. The trend of the Big Four Conference of Foreign Ministers in Paris is a good indication. The conferees have been unable to agree on any major point of the European peace treaties.

I believe that most of the differences arise from two main sources: ideology, and the tremendous turnover in the European spheres of influence of the great powers.

ment of spheres of influence have been emphasized in this column before. A tremendous vacuum has been created in Europe by the disappearance of Germany and Italy as powers. That vacuum must be filled, and Russia is surging into it. Britain finds her position both on the continent and in the Mediterranean heavily challenged. He would be a rash prophet who predicted that this battle of giants could be halted before the realignment of domination has run its full course. The best one can do is pray that the turnover can be effected without another war.

Annual Meeting Aged Women's Home Held

The 48th annual meeting of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home was held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. Heddie, acting president, in the chair. Members present were Mesdames G. A. Lister, F. Ellis, A. S. Minnion, J. Tully, E. Criddle, I. G. Alexander, H. Grant, F. E. Jameson, A. D. Whittier and Mrs. D. C. Sabiston.

In presenting her report Mrs. Heddie recorded with regret the passing of the committee's late president, Mrs. Florence N. Clay, and said that it was due to the humanitarian ideals of a small group of women of which Mrs. Clay was one that the work of the home is being carried on today.

She expressed the thanks of the committee to the clergy of Victoria who conduct Sunday afternoon services; the Salvation Army, organizations and friends who provided entertainment during the year; Miss A. Robb, the matron, for her untiring devotion and to the staff of the home for cheery discharge of duty.

The secretary's report, given by Miss E. Morrison, showed 102 on the waiting list at present, 128 cared for in the past 12 months, nine of whom have passed on and six left to enter hospital or join relatives and friends.

Officers elected for the coming years were: President, Mrs. A. D. Whittier, who has acted as secretary-treasurer for the past 23 years; first vice-president, Mrs. E. Heddie; second vice-president, Mrs. G. A. Lister; garden convener, Mrs. Heddie.

At the monthly meeting which followed a number of applications to enter the home were received and it was announced considerable repairs to the building are being carried out. Committee for the month was announced as follows: Mrs. F. E. Jameson, convener; Mrs. D. C. Sabiston and Mrs. F. Ellis.

Peace At Home The First Step To World Harmony

"Peace, like charity, begins at home," Dr. Henrietta Anderson reminded her audience in an address entitled "Our Own Backyard" presented at a meeting of Women's Canadian Club Wednesday afternoon in the Empress Hotel.

Statin, that in her opinion, these "getting together" of nations and of groups, was not evidently the answer to world peace, Dr. Anderson said, "I am continually driven back to believe that the answer is in the individual. The spirit of the world comes from the torch within us and peace will never come from the top down, but will well up from underneath."

Dr. Anderson spoke of the sad lot of the old people in Victoria. "Rightly or wrongly," she said, "Young married people no longer feel that it is their job to look after the old, and frankly, I don't think it is either, for the two generations don't mix. If a couple has brought up a family, worthy of a place in the world, then they have fulfilled their obligation to the nation and should be treated accordingly. A nursing home where the food is abominable and the care most sketchy, is not the answer. Neither is the old age pension, at the present rate."

Racial tolerance and the worthy use of leisure hours were other things that the speaker suggested would aid in cleaning up "Our Own Backyard."

"Earning a living is not all of life," Dr. Anderson said, "We must also make life worth living for others and to enjoy living on higher ideals."

Mrs. A. J. Campbell presided and introduced the speaker, Mrs. H. L. Smith read a challenge to the women of Canada, which had been compiled by the National Council of Women.

Mrs. Ralph Simpson was the soloist Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Milburn.

The next meeting will be May 27 when L. D. Fairhall will speak on "The Mediterranean and World Affairs."

Rooms Registry For Women And Girls Taken By Y.W.C.A.

At a recent meeting at the Y.W.C.A., attended by representatives of the board of directors, the Travelers' Aid Committee and the Emergency Shelter Registry, it was decided that the Y.W.C.A. should hereafter take over from the Emergency Shelter Registry the registration of sleeping rooms, room and board, and housekeeping rooms available for women and girls. ## Another Petition Against Airport

A second petition being circulated among residents of Gordon Head shows that they are practically 100 per cent against the establishment of an airport there with the resultant devastation of one of the finest residential sections of Greater Victoria, said Norman Bell, chairman of the Saanich Ward Three Ratepayers' Association today.

The first petition circulated about one month ago among property owners directly affected by the airport project received an 85 per cent majority against the plan. The present petition was including property owners within a radius of one-half to three-

Rising Supply Costs Hit Street Lights

Spiraling costs of electrical supplies have hit the city street lighting department, Ald. F. G. Mulliner, chairman of the street lighting committee, reported today as word was received from quarters of a mile of the proposed flying field.

Mr. Bell advocated use of Patricia Bay airport instead of construction of a flying base at Gordon Head.

Mr. Bell said three private flying organizations at Edmonton, and one at Comox had obtained permission to use Dominion-owned airports for private flying.

"Why can't permission be obtained for use of Patricia Bay?" he asked.

firms which tendered to supply the city $27,000 worth of electric light materials that costs had risen from 5 to 30 per cent.

Shipyard Unions Ask Joint Negotiations

Individual shipyard trade unions here have agreed to make group representations to the two Victoria shipyards in negotiations for new union contracts if the shipyards are willing to make group representations.

This decision was reached Wednesday night at a meeting of the Victoria Joint Shipyard Council representing both C.C.L. and A.F.L. shipyard unions.

The council now feels that it is up to the shipyards to decide whether or not they wish to make representations as a group.

The shipyard unions here, as in Vancouver, are seeking contracts to provide for a 25-cent-an-hour wage increase, 40-hour week and union security. These are the same demands as have been made by the International Woodworkers of America to the lumber industry.

Negotiations between the Victoria shipyard unions and representatives of the companies are scheduled to open some time next week, union representatives reported.

Boy Stowaway Likes Shoes, Bicycle But Not Sea Trip

The white man's country, where little boys wear good, sturdy shoes and ride bicycles, is all that Louis Antonya Fernandez could have hoped for in faraway Africa—but the sea trip it took to get there, that's another question.

For Louis, who is just 10, and who stowed away on the British ship, Ss. Richmond Hill in the crowded port of his native Lourenço Marques, Portuguese East Africa, does not like being a sailor. He arrived in Vancouver several days ago after a 10,000-mile sea trip, and is now in Victoria with Rev. and Mrs. Earley King, to attend the B.C.V. Conference of the Pentecostal Assemblies in Canada at Glad Tidings Tabernacle. They are staying at the home of Mrs. P. H. Harrison, 134 Clarence.

"I like Canada and Vancouver, but I did not like the sea trip," said Louis in his native tongue of Shangaan, which Mr. King translated. "I would not like to stay on a boat."

When introduced, he shook hands solemnly and politely, and then said thank you with a big smile. "Thank you," "nice" and "baby" are the only English words Louis knows.

"I would like to stay in Vancouver if the authorities would let me," said Louis, who is a small 10-year-old, rather wistfully. He was wearing denim trousers, a gray waistcoat, light shirt and red tie.

IN CARE OF MISSIONARIES

With his native dignity and shy smile, Louis looks like anything it stowaway. When he arrived in Vancouver he was taken into custody of the immigration officials. Mr. and Mrs. King, who were in the South African mission fields for seven years, came forward to say they spoke the tongue of Louis' tribe—Shangaan. They have now an application at Ottawa seeking custody of Louis to enable them to take him back to Lourenço Marques when they return next fall.

A shopping tour in Vancouver when he exchanged his shorts, too-big waistcoat and sneakers for a suit, cap and pair of shoes, was one of the highlights of Louis' visit.

"I like the shoes best," he said, looking down at the brown oxfords.

He learned to ride a bicycle, attended a dinner party in his honor, and had an airplane trip in his few days in Canada. While he would like to stay here, he wants to go to school and get an education when he returns to Lourenço Marques.

"I did not go to school there, I got a job painting ships there but did only a little," he said. "Many big ships came into the port and I lived right near by them."

An orphan with no one to care for him, he does not mind returning to Africa so long as he can live with the Kings, he said.

MAY TRAVEL CANADA

If Mr. and Mrs. King are given custody of the boy, he will travel with them as they visit different cities in Canada telling of the work of the missions. They feel it will stir up a great deal of missionary interest.

"We hope he will accept Christianity," Mrs. King said. "We want him to be a useful member of his own tribe and help spread the gospel among them."

"We feel it was quite miraculous that he did arrive in Vancouver, for with the acceptance of one other woman missionary, I do not know of anyone in Canada who speaks Louis' tongue," Mr. King said. "When we went to the Immigration office, he had been crying and was very lonesome and when he found someone who could speak his tongue, he bubbled over."

Proof of Louis' popularity in Vancouver was the fact that the Kings have already received an offer from a family wishing to adopt him.

Lack Of Freight Space To U.S. May Aid Local Lumber Supply

Both B.C. government authorities and representatives of the lumber industry here believed today that Canadian railways might join with U.S. rail lines in imposing an unofficial embargo on the export of B.C. lumber to the U.S. to conserve rail freight space during the current coal strike in the U.S.

B.C. forest departments had been warned such action was pending.

"It seems to me a very likely thing," said D. O. Cameron of Cameron Lumber Co. Ltd., one of the larger Victoria exporters to the U.S.

Whether or not the pending action will make more lumber available for British Columbia's domestic demands depends on the outcome of negotiations between the International Woodworkers of America and the lumber operators. No lumber would be available for domestic or foreign markets if plans of the union to strike next Monday are carried out.

The railways, facing a lack of coal to burn in locomotives, may be forced to prohibit carrying non-perishable freight. Since many engines on the coast burn oil, it is possible the effect of the pending unofficial embargo might not be so pronounced here.

'Mulberry' Assembled For Exhibition At Bay St. Armories

Sappers of the Royal Engineers today put final touches to the assembling of Mulberry, the prefabricated port, at Bay Street Armories in preparation for the official opening of the exhibition at 4 Friday afternoon by Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward. The exhibition will open for free public showing at 10 Saturday morning and will continue on display for one week from 10 in the morning until 6 in the evening.

Models, weighing approximately 20 tons, transported across Canada in two freight cars, arrived in Victoria Monday and were immediately taken to the Armories. These are the original scale models which appeared in the British War Office during the early planning days of Operation Mulberry.

Occupying 12,000 square feet of floor space the models are assembled on the main floor of the Armories, surrounded by actual photographs of the early trials and experimental days, together with maps and charts, transplanted from the War Office, so the people of Canada may get some idea of the gigantic engineering feat which shortened the war by many months and saved countless lives.

Col. V. C. Steer-Webster, O.B.E., and his staff of experts will be on hand during the week of exhibition to explain the actual operations of Mulberry as a prefabricated port. The exhibition is sponsored by the Hudson's Bay Company.

Victoria Deserves More Materials

Victoria should be allotted a greater share of the available supply of building materials, Mayor Percy George told a meeting of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion Tuesday evening, because it was "ignited an emergency shelter during the war."

He intimated that continued efforts are being made to get more building materials here to try and speed home building of veterans and alleviate the desperate housing shortage.

"The abrupt ending of hostilities had caught most communities unprepared for the great demand for houses," he said, but the municipal authorities had tried to encourage housing and had arranged to get 150 Wartime Houses for veterans.

Another aid would be the curtailment of exports of lumber from Vancouver Island, he stated, and this matter is being pursued by civic and municipal bodies.

Mayor Percy George announced today that the City Council delegation attending the Portland Rose Festival, June 1 to 9 would be Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, Ald. D. D. McTavish and himself.

North Quadra Scouts and Cubs group committee meeting will be held Monday at 8.

Evidence Conflicts At Hinksman Trial For Manslaughter

Case for the prosecution continued in the trial of Frank C. Hinksman charged with manslaughter in Assize Court here today before Mr. Justice Manson.

Hinksman pleaded not guilty to a charge of causing the death of his wife, Cicely, in a traffic accident at 2.30 a.m. March 23, at the opening of the trial, Wednesday.

Dr. E. L. McNiven, who examined the accused at 3.30 a.m., the same night, told the court he had noticed liquor on Hinksman's breath, that he had an unsteady gait and that his muscular movements were not coordinated.

Hinksman, he said, had not seemed to appreciate the fact his wife was dead.

Under cross-examination by Gordon Cameron, defence counsel, Dr. McNiven said he did not want to commit "technical assault" by taking blood for a test. He had not felt the accused was capable of giving permission for a blood test.

Noting that a witness, Wednesday, had testified the accused was sober after the accident Mr. Justice Manson told Dr. McNiven his evidence had placed both judge and jury in a difficult position. Mr. Justice Manson asked if the accident could have had a sobering effect on Hinksman for a short time.

Dr. McNiven said his experience had been that once a person sobered up they remained sober.

APPEARED NORMAL

John MacKay, 1338 Pandora Avenue, outside whose house the crash occurred testified at the opening of the trial that Hinksman had come to his door and asked him to get a doctor. Both MacKay and his son, Donald James MacKay, owner of the parked car, which it is alleged the accused struck, testified that Hinksman had appeared perfectly normal although excited and worried about his wife's condition.

Jury members are A. A. Sabiston, George Elgin, Robert C. Gordon, James W. O'Neil, Leslie Dash, William Murray Neil, George O. Treleven, Boris C. Pecty, Samuel C. Johns, foreman; Walter G. Eekman, Alexander Allen and John Iverson.

Discuss Willows' Sale; Rumor Of New Offer To Buy

The city finance committee and B.C. Agricultural Association representatives spent at all morning discussing the possible sale of Willows Fairgrounds and the question of having the lighting system of the main building renewed. Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of both groups, said following the meeting.

He would give no intimation if there was any new offer to purchase Willows other than the one made some time ago, which contemplated using it as a sports centre.

"It has been rumored that there were at least two other inquiries made which might lead to additional offers for purchase of the fairgrounds."

No decision was arrived at. Ald. Williams said, and the matter will be discussed further, probably Friday.

B.C.'s Income Tax Policy Rests On Ottawa, Says Hart

Whether or not British Columbia will impose its own income tax next year when the wartime tax agreements with the federal government run out March 31 is not yet clear, Premier Hart, back in his office today from the Dominion-Provincial Conference, reported.

The whole question will be studied by Dominion government financial experts. It is possible that when this analysis has been completed, the provincial premiers may be called back to Ottawa for further discussions, Mr. Hart intimated.

"I am sure further efforts will be made before allowing it to be a failure," said Mr. Hart. He believed that if the conference had not broken up last week, interim terms acceptable to British Columbia could have been worked out.

Premier Hart expressed disappointment that no agreement had been reached for a three-year period. During this time, study of the allocation of revenue sources to the Dominion and the provinces could be made so as to avoid double taxation, he said.

Pending possible further Dominion government action, date of the next session of the B.C. Legislative Assembly cannot be fixed. It had been suggested that the provincial Parliament would be called earlier next year than usual to adopt a new taxation scheme.

MAY BE DUAL TAX

Premier Hart fears that British Columbia may have to impose its own income tax, thus bringing about a dual system, when the federal proposals end. But there is a possibility that the Dominion government would agree to collect for B.C. and disburse the provincial revenue to the province.

Dominion authorities made it plain to Mr. Hart that there were but two sources of taxation they will not enter—real estate and auto licenses. Real estate taxation has been left to the municipalities. The province has collected the auto license tax.

Mr. Hart is scheduled to report on the conference to the cabinet. Questioned about reports that he might become Canada's next minister to Elre, Premier Hart said: "Begorrah, you never know."

Reopen Teen Canteen

Plans for a large meeting and dance to mark the reopening of the Teen Canteen at Lake Hill in the Community Hall, May 17, are now being made by the Youth Action Committee.

Open to "teen-age youths of Greater Victoria, the canteen has extended an open invitation to any boy or girl wishing to attend the ceremony, which starts at 8.30 and ends at 11.30.

The reopening ceremony will also be held in support of Miss Rosemary Hurst, one of Victoria's May Queen candidates.

Will Your New Car Be Costly?

New cars won't be plentiful for quite awhile, and your present car won't have much of a turn-in value. So, when the time comes to buy a new one you'll face a substantial down payment.

Your new car will be costly if you have to pay out interest to finance it. The clever idea is to start a planned savings account now that brings in interest.

Exciting Story For Historical Film

Romance, revenge and treachery blend in RKO Radio's Technicolor spectacle, "The Spanish Main," with Paul Henreid, Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak co-starring, which is now being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

Henreid has the role of a Dutch merchant captain whose vessel is seized and the crew sold into slavery by the arrogant Governor of New Spain. In revenge the captain becomes a buccaneer and preys on Spanish shipping in the Caribbean. Learning that the daughter of the Viceroy of Mexico is on her way to Cartagena to marry the governor the buccaneer captures her galleon and weds the lady himself.

Producer Frank Borzage directed the thrilling film with Robert Fellows acting as executive producer.

Establishing Mood Big Job in Acting

Geraldine Fitzgerald, one of Hollywood's top-flight actresses, works harder—much harder—off the set than on.

"My work is easy by the time I go before the camera; by that time, I've put all the hard work behind me," she said recently on the set of "Three Strangers," the Warner Bros. feature coming tomorrow to the Dominion Theatre.

The hardest job so far as she is concerned is not learning lines nor trying to remember the various bits of business to inject into her performance, but in establishing the proper mood.

"That is of great importance to me," she explained, "that task of establishing the mood for each scene. I take care of it in advance."

Sometimes she does it stretched out on the divan in her dressing room, sometimes while driving to the studio from her Santa Monica beach home, sometimes the night before, while sitting before her blazing fireplace.

Where To Go Tonight
(As Advertised)

ATLAS — "The Spanish Main," starring Paul Henreid.

CADET — "Don Juan Quilligan," starring William Bendix.

CAPITOL — Bing Crosby in "The Bells of St. Mary's."

DOMINION — "The Brighton Strangler," starring John Loder and June Duprez.

PLAZA — "Mr. Emmanuel," starring Walter Rilla.

RIO — Jean Parker in "The Navy Way."

YORK — "Gentle Annie," starring James Craig and Donna Reed.

Adventure, Romance In 'Gentle Annie'

Adventure and romance are nicely blended to make for an exciting, action-packed adventure picture in Metro-Goldwyn-May's "Gentle Annie," based on MacKinlay Kantor's popular novel, which opens today at the York Theatre.

Having as its locale the nation's last frontier—the Oklahoma Territory at the turn of the century—the film is a swashbuckling thriller about a U.S. Marshal who comes to the small town to track down a band of train robbers and finds himself the guest of the very hospitable people who are suspected of the crime.

In addition to Craig, who plays the marshal, the Goss family extends a helping hand to lovely Donna Reed, who is seen as a stranded young lady without funds enough to return home.

'Mr. Emmanuel' Now at Plaza

Felix Aymer, who is so brilliantly cast, in the title role of "Mr. Emmanuel," was recommended for the part by Laurence Olivier, who was last seen here in the sensational "Rebecca." Although Aymer plays a frail old gentleman of 70, he is in real life just 54. For the better part of this time he has played on the stage and in films in England, but "Mr. Emmanuel" is his first starring role. Other important pictures in which he enjoyed considerable success are "The Citadel" and "Victoria, the Great."

"Mr. Emmanuel" is a G.C.F. production expertly directed by Harold French. It is now at the Plaza Theatre through United Artists release.

Naval Training Theme Of Rio Film

"The Navy Way," Paramount picture which opens today at the Rio Theatre, is packed with enough thrills to satisfy the most exacting film fan. A story of the Great Lakes Naval Station, near Chicago, orientation grounds for many American seamen, the picture combines romance and comedy in addition to drama.

Bob Lowery and Jean Parker carry the major portion of the acting load but are ably assisted by Roscoe Karns, Robert Armstrong, Bill Henry and others. The action deals with a group of raw recruits who receive their boot training at Great Lakes and follows their experiences right through the memorable graduation exercises.

Saanich Schools Sports Day May 23

Schools of the Saanich area will hold their sports day the afternoon of May 23 at Hampton Road grounds, John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, announced today.

Mount View High School will hold its sports day independently on its own grounds.

It is hoped, Mr. Gough said, to combine sports days of all the schools in the Greater Victoria area by next year, but plans had already been laid for the sports days before amalgamation of the school district this year.

Reduce Park Fees For Amateur Sport

The reduction of fees for all local sports activities at Athletic and Macdonald Parks from 25 per cent to 20 per cent of the gate will be recommended to Monday's council meeting by the parks committee, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman, said today.

The Victoria Baseball Association requested that the fees be cut in half.

The community spirit of the residents of the Gonzales Bay area was warmly commended by Ald. McTavish, who reported that the citizens had cleaned up all debris and garbage off the beach.

Offer of St. John Ambulance Association to render first aid on the beaches was accepted.

The city engineer is being asked to report on the cost of installing sewer connections to all buildings on Gonzales Bay which are now without sewers.

City Parks Sprayed For Caterpillars

The parks department is busy engaged in spraying all boulevard and park trees and shrubs with the power spray to kill tent caterpillars. W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, said today.

The purchase of 2,000 pounds of arsenate of lead for the caterpillar control work will be recommended by the parks committee to Monday's City Council meeting, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman, said.

Mr. Warren warned that at the time when the tent caterpillars reach the big and loathsome stage, at which time most people start complaining about them, it is too late to do much to kill them.

They eat voraciously while they are growing and are vulnerable to poison at that stage, he explained, but when full grown they eat very little and so the poison does little good.
